THEY ARE HEARTILY WELCOMED

No Annual National Encampment Week Within the History of the Grand Army of the Republic Has Ever Begun Before

Asklepionians Than the Twenty Seventh

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 3.—No annual national encampment ever held within the history of the Grand Army of the Republic has ever begun more auspiciously than the 27th which opened in this city yesterday. The elements seem to have adjusted themselves to the wishes of the veterans of the great war and to have brought them together in a spirit of comradeship which has been rare. The men who have labored and toiled in the service of their country are now in the most comfortable of all places.

But the soldiers of the Civil War are now in the wake of the old soldiers and it is fitting that in this they should be welcomed with open arms and that they should be given a hearty handshake and a hearty cheer.

BIG Steel Works in Pittsburgh Resumes Operation

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 3.—The large plant of the Ohio Iron and Steel company Tenth street South Side and the Manus-West Steel company corner of Twenty seventh and Franklin streets which had been closed for some time was opened yesterday.

The return of the Ohio Steel company to its old works and their declared intention to operate again is a good sign of things to come.

Arm in arm with the men walking the streets stopped and gazed many of them with light of hope and happy faces. Some of them had come from various parts of the country and had come to meet their friends.

Thousands upon thousands of men in the ranks of the Grand Army of the Republic and their dependents had come to the city to witness the opening of the convention.

It was a grand day and the efforts of the citizens were evident in greeting and building up the city for the great event.

There was no lack of enthusiasm among the citizens and the enthusiasm was reflected in every street and corner of the city.

The Republican ticket nominated on Saturday, is one of the weakest ever placed in the field in Allen County. It does not even attain the dignity of mediocrity. A prominent Republican remarked yesterday, the nomination of such a ticket means a Democrat majority of about 1,500 on the entire ticket in Allen County.

It is a query among political observers why the Republicans nominated a candidate for county surveyor at Saturday's convention. Did they not know where they were at, or did they fancy the ticket would not be recognized as a Republican ticket unless Robert Gamble's name was on it? There is no election of surveyor until the autumn of 1894.

The Coal in Theology.

It would be curious to know what mystic meaning our forefathers attached to the simple act of combing the hair. We learn from old church records that the hair of the priest or bishop was combed several times during services by one of the inferior clerks, but what such a queer proceeding signified no one knows.

The coal is also mentioned as one of the implements used during high mass, but only when sung by a bishop. Masses of the precious metals are still reckoned as the most valuable possessions of some European churches, though they are of no use in modern ceremonies. Besides the gold and silver combs, the poorer churches had them of ivory, iron, horn and even wood. Combs especially known to antiquarians are those of St. Neot, St. Dunstan and St. Malachias. That formerly belonging to St. Thomas the martyr of Canterbury, is still kept in the church at Thetford; that of St. Cuthbert, "the woman hater," at Durham cathedral.

From sundry references in old legends to the use of the comb in divinations and from its appearance in combinations with pagan emblems on rudely sculptured stones in many of the old countries, it seems probable that it was a wily known pagan device and one that was highly venerated.—Exodus.

Old Carpet Worth $5,500.

The longer a carpet is used in the collector's department at the United States mint the more it is worth. Wear and tear do not diminish its value. Yesterday a thick woolen carpet that has been on the collector's floor for seven years was taken up and carefully crumpled. The precious asters were scrupulously gathered together, as if they were the relics of some departed saint, and by an elaborate refining process the government recovered 273 ounces of gold, worth over $5,500. The metal had been deposited there by the indolent abrasions and disintegrations of the yellow metal while being converted from bullion to coin.

Even the heavy gloves of the men who handle bullion are incrusted, and the gold is brought back to Uncle Sam's coffers. Ever since from the time of the capture of an infamous falsehood in their fake interview, they confess that he did not say what was imparted to him, but did say something else. It beat fisted the Bluff's purpose to state that Mr. Yoder had said that he was defeated because he was a member of the G. A. R. When the facts were obtained the Bluff's charges were found to be false, as the correspondent admitted that Yoder did not mention the G. A. R. at all.

If the Bluff deliberately lied about that detail, would they not lie about any other? Would they have any compunctions of conscience about fixing up another equally false story with which to protect themselves? Hardly. So they have their correspondent confess that he made a blunder, and that it was the U. V. U. Mr. Yoder had mentioned. When they shall have been convicted of having lied about the U. V. U. they will again put words into the mouth of their correspondent and attempt to creep out of the responsibility of the utterances in another cowardly manner.

The facts of the matter are, in brief: The alleged interview was a fake, pure and simple. Mr. Yoder was not interviewed.

In private conversation with the Bluff, a pen-pal a-linger regarding his defeat, he did not mention the G. A. R. at any time. So the correspondent confessed when the falsity of his statement was crowded upon him.

It is equally positive that Mr. Yoder did not mention the U. V. U. as the Bluff now charges for it has changed his base, but the correspondent heard upon the streets of Washington that Mr. Yoder was said to have made to some newspaper people the statement the Bluff charges against him.

So it goes. A consciousness crowd of imbeciles engaged for a pittance to do editorial work on a Republican newspaper, thinking their situations depend on the services they suppose render the party by continuous stories of Democrats, protest the newspaper for possible partisan advantage. Truth does not enter into the statements; in fact, they regard that element as a detriment to their allegations. They belong to that school of journalistic ghouls who bring discredit upon what should be an honorable calling.

The Boston Herald, which is one of the most earnest advocates of tariff reform in the East, and regarding the clause which is being raised by the Republican press with the view of frightening the Democratic party into an abandonment of its pledges to reduce the duties, it says, in the event that the Democrats are weak enough to turn their backs on the tariff question the result could not be otherwise than disastrous. The Herald also says:

It would be difficult to represent in prose and word to be understood by the people. It would have caused all of the business depression incident to a radical change in the tariff, and then would not have made the change. If the party is to suffer which we do not believe—it had better to do so.

THIEVES.

The City Overrun With Them Yesterday.

Numerous Pockets Picked—Sharks Hold Fort at the Fair Ground.

The Labor Day celebration yesterday proved an attraction for a large number of pickpockets, thieves, etc., and a dozen robbers were reported.

At the Fair Ground every precaution was taken by the committee in charge to protect the public during the exercises, but notwithstanding their vigilance a gang of fellows succeeded in fleecing quite a number of persons out of their money. They had a barrel up-ended and were at their thieving when a police officer caught onto them and closed them from the ground. The fellows got a good start and although followed quite a distance by the officer, made their escape.

ROBBED IN A STREET CAR.

A lady who did not give her name suffered the loss of a pocket-book containing about $100 in cash and a diamond ring.

She discovered her loss almost instantly and, pointing to the thief, called to the passengers, "That man stole my pocket book!" The declaration caused much excitement, during which the fellow leaped from the car and made his escape in a crowd of persons.

Numerous other robberies were reported during the day and evening.

CAR.

Narrowly Escapes a Collision With the P. E. Ft. W. & C. Accommodation.

There came over being a frightful accident at the Main street crossing of the P. E. Ft. W. & C. last evening about five o'clock.

Street car No. 6 was going north crowded with home bound passengers. As the car approached the railway tracks the gates were lowered for the approaching west-bound locomotive.

The engine had begun the descent the morning and allowed the car to run onto the track. No attention was paid to the north gate, then closed, and the car moved on, no stop even being made to see whether the track was clear.

The passengers were thoroughly frightened over their close call. It is only a question of time, if the present degree of recklessness is maintained by the company and its employees, call there will be more needed for readers to chronicle. There have been enough already.

SWITCH STAND.

Hokey-Pokey Stewart Injured in Jumping From a Train.

About 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon, William Stewart, who sells hokey-pokey and candy, and who is a member of the Stewart stable, was enroute to the station at this station, and Sunday got on the sixth section of train 11, where he made quite a number of sales and was busy making change when the train started up. By the time he was ready to get off, he had reached the Wapakoneta road-crossing, just west of the motorcar, and was being pulled along by the train.

The passengers were thoroughly frightened over their close call. It is only a question of time, if the present degree of recklessness is maintained by the company and its employees, call there will be more needed for readers to chronicle. There have been enough already.

QUESTION.

Some who have taken part in several Labor Day celebrations and who are staunch advocates of honest labor, would like to know what our compensation is of National Guards in the city. Did not the part in yesterday's celebration. Was the company invited or not, and if not on what grounds was an invitation withheld?

CITIZENS.

Probably Loony.

Charles Ross, the unfortunate young man who was arrested a few days ago for robbing J. D. Morris' daughter, was committed to the city prison because his mind is unbalanced slightly, and he is unfit to be at large. Dr. Hoover, who has been treating him, will make application to the Probate Court to have the unfortunate fellow sent to the asylum.

MISSING.

A Mother and Two Children Come to Lima

To See the Labor Day Celebration—They Have Disappeared.

Mrs. Martin Boop and daughter aged ten years, and son aged eight years, are among the missing, and their whereabouts has been a mystery to the woman's husband and the police since yesterday.

The Boop family lives about four miles northeast of town, and yesterday morning Mrs. Boop and the two children came to Lima to witness the Labor Day celebration. When night came, and they did not return, Mr. Boop became uneasy, and coming to the city tried to find them, but without success.

The police were notified, and the search for the missing trio continued all night, and to-day with the same result. Boop can offer no reason for his wife's absence, and is very anxious for her to be found.

MIKE SULLIVAN

Awarded the Match With O'Leary Last Night.

The wrestling contest between Mike Sullivan and the famous Dan O'Leary, at the Fair Grounds, was arranged before the match was fought.

Mike Sullivan, a well-known wrestler, best two in three falls. When Referee Heffner called time, the men stepped to the center of the mat, shook hands and went at it. The first bout last night, which was decided in favor of O'Leary, was ended by Sullivan forcing O'Leary into bridge by a hammer lock and finally putting his shoulders to the mat.

O'Leary disputed the fall and refused to continue the contest and Referee Heffner awarded the match to Sullivan.

HOME INDUSTRIES

Should Receive the First Patronage of Our Home People.

The following banners, which appeared on the Lima Brewing Company's display yesterday were suggestive:

"Lima wants Manufactories." What is the Lima Brewery?"

"The Lima brewery as a manufacturer only employs thirteen men—could give 100 to 500 men if the nickel would go to 100."

"About $10,000 per day of our money remains in Lima, where $400,000 per day is brought to us by the foreign trade."

"We do not ask our citizens for any donations to put up our manufacturing buildings."

"We ask it to pay page and a half."

"Our beer is absolutely made from malt and hops only. Delivered in kegs or boxes to any part of the city."
